

Information Technology Advisor Cuba

Management Sciences for Development, Inc. (MSD) is an international development consulting firm that provides technical assistance to strengthen justice sector institutions and empower civil society to protect the rights and ensure justice for marginalized population and vulnerable communities.

MSD seeks experienced Information and Communications Technology (ICT) professionals for the upcoming USAID-funded Digital Democracy program in Cuba to work with independent journalists to employ more effective digital technologies and improve their use of new media. The position will be based in Miami.

Qualifications and Experience:

- Experience working with social media in closed countries or non-secure environments
- Experience working on the application of Information and Communications Technology in the promotion of democracy
- Degree in journalism, communications or information technology
- Seven years combined journalism/ICT experience, including at minimum four years field experience
- Spanish fluency required
- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- US Citizenship is not required.

Interested candidates should submit a resume, cover letter, and three references to recruitment@msdglobal.com by July 16, 2012.